Jenel and the Wizard

There was once a little girl called Jenel who lived in a small village called Vindcalm. She lived in a rich family with her parents. They lived in a big house in which they felt safe.

However one day, an evil witch from the forest heard about Vindcalm. She liked to destroy villages, she jumped on her magic broom and said, “Vindcalm, here I come!”

At that moment in Vindcalm, it was just like any other days. The villagers were doing their jobs. Everything was going as normal. But then, the witch arrived. She had cast a spell that made her invisible. She learned that although Vindcalm was small, it had a strong army. So, she carefully flew over the village and poured some mysterious liquid to the town’s drinking water source.

People drank the water from the source, but nothing happened. Until three hours later, they turned into mice! Mice were running all over the village and the witch was causing a lot of trouble. The liquid she poured was mice essence which turned people into mice. Jenel was watching this happen and felt scared. She was thankful that she didn’t drink the water, but her parents did. The witch was flying towards her, so she made a run to the forest. When she was wandering through the forest, she saw a door on the ground. She curiously opened the door, which led to some stairs. Then, she went down the stairs and saw an old man in a strange set of clothes.

The man turned around, he was surprised and said, “Who are you? Why are you here?” Jenel responded, “I’m Jenel and I discovered the door on the ground. I opened it and went down the stairs.” The man said, “Well, I’m a wizard.” Jenel told him about Vindcalm’s situation and begged for help! The wizard agreed. He then told her the plan.

The witch was chasing a mouse in the village. When she heard someone yelling behind her, she turned around and saw Jenel. She said, “You didn’t drink the water, didn’t you?” As she laughed manically, Jenel stayed calm. Suddenly, the witch became a mouse and everyone returned normal. The wizard had cast a spell to make the witch a mouse. Everyone cheered for Jenel and the wizard in the end. Peace was restored to Vindcalm once more.
