Today, we finally travelled to Dubai! On the first day in Dubai, we went to the world's biggest shopping mall. There were a lot of restaurants. We ate a delicious meal at an Arabian café to taste their national food. Then, we went to the Burj Khalifa, the tallest building in the world, which is just next to the mall, but the observation deck was in maintenance. Oh no!

I was riding my bike happily because I have finished my revision. It was good to relax before exams. But suddenly, a man on a bike riding quickly lost his control. He crashed my bike and I fell. I broke my arm. HOW CAN I PARTICIPATE IN THE EXAM THE NEXT FEW DAYS!

Today was Chinese New Year. My family and I paid a New Year's visit to my aunt's family. We ate sticky rice cake and turnip cake. My aunt gave me a red packet. But when I was back home, I opened the red packet, and there was no money in it!

WHY?

The most important invention in the last 100 years

In the past 100 years, people invented a lot of things. Air-conditioners, maglev trains, escalators... but I think the most important invention is GPS (Global positioning system).

There are many uses of GPS. If you want to go to a place that you don't know how to get there, you can use your phone's location function, which is connected to the GPS, and use the online maps to find the way to get to your destination. Therefore, you will never get lost if you just follow the GPS.

Moreover, it can check the real time of different countries even if you are at home. Because the earth is a sphere, it spins 15 degrees an earth hour, so scientists decided to split time into 24 time zones ($360^\circ \div 15^\circ = 24$ zones). When you are in different countries, the time zone may be different and GPS can check where you are and show the real time.

For these reasons, I think the most important invention in the last 100 years is GPS.

To celebrate Chinese New Year, my family and I made some rice cakes which are traditional snacks from Chinese New Year.

Making rice cakes was easy. First, we melted some brown sugar. Then, we left it aside until it was warm. When it was warm, we added it into the sticky rice powder slowly and gradually and stirred the mixture at the same time.

This was the hardest part. I had to use all of my power to stir the mixture because it was stiff and it took a long time to mix it well and smooth. But it was fun.

Finally we poured it in a bowl and steamed it for one and a half hours and it would be ready to be served.

I had a great time making the Chinese rice cake with my family. Although it was my first time making rice cakes, it tastes delicious.

Today is Chinese New Year and my family and my cousin are going to have a hotpot. This is going to be great.

My cousin is here. My family are preparing the food and it is very yummy. We ate fried rice, chicken wings, beef, pork, lettuce, watermelon, noodles sausages, fish balls, fish, broccoli and spaghetti.

Then we talk to each other about their relationship and it was interesting. In the end, we say goodbye to each other. I feel very sad and I am going to miss them very much.

Chinese New Year

Today is the Chinese New Year's Eve. I had a great day. Let's listen to me one by one.

First I went shopping at the new shopping mall near our house with my mom. There was interesting things like a big statue of cow. My mom brought me to a shop and bought me a red dress. It was very beautiful. There were some little pearl and different colourful butterflies. Then, we went back home.

My mum, dad and sister played mahjong and I sat next to them to see how to play. After learning the rules, we played happily. Everybody talked and laughed. The ambience was very lively.

Later, it was time for the New Year's Eve dinner. There were many different dishes like: fried shrimps, white sliced chicken... We watched TV and ate dinner. It is very happy.

Today was the happiest day in my life.
