2019 Halloween Party

We had our school Halloween Party on 31st October, 2019. I could see some big lanterns and Halloween flags hanging over the stairs. I dressed up as a wizard. My friends, Marcus Hui, dressed up as Spiderman and Jaden Han looked liked a vampire.

During the second lesson, we went to the covered playground. We played many games there, such as Mystery Box, matching games, tongue-twister game and puzzle game. I liked the puzzle game most because it is so challenging! Besides, we could get candies from teachers. We also took photos and played “trick-or-treat”.

I enjoyed the Halloween Party and I felt happy! It’s really funny! I want to dress up as Batman next year! I want to get more candies next year too!

My Summer Holiday (Baking cheese cake and lemon cookies)

One day, my parents bring my cousin and me to a new baking studio in Tseung Kwan O. First, the instructor divides us into two groups. Then we choose our own recipes. Next, we watch the production video on iPad.

My father and cousin choose to bake a cheese cake. My mother and I choose to bake lemon cookies. After that, we prepare some ingredients and different utensils.

Then, we follow the instructions to make the desserts. When we find some difficulties, the shopkeepers help us. They are very friendly and helpful.

In the end, we bake the cake and cookies successfully. They look very attractive and tasty. My cousin asks, “May I try some cookies? I am very hungry.” My father says, “Let’s bring them home for our afternoon tea.” We all have a wonderful time.

My Summer Holiday (Date of the trip: 25th August)

It was a sunny day. Dad and I took a long journey to the Great Wall. It was almost noon when we arrived at the foot of the Ba Da Ling Great Wall.

Seen from the entrance, the Great Wall looks like a long fence on top of the winding mountains. Here we started, and we were very excited to cross every stair.

When we arrived at the fourth smoke tower, we had been sweating a lot. There we stopped and looked around. What a spectacular scene!

In the end, we reached the top of the Great Wall. It was too crowded to take a nice photo. So, we quickly went back down the wall.

What a pleasant journey!

My Summer Holiday (Date of the trip: 17th July)

In this summer, my family traveled to Zermatt in Switzerland. We took the funicular to Sunnegga, which is 2288 meters above sea level. The view there was gorgeous. There is an interesting water project designed for kids. I could turn the water wheel to draw water from the ground and the water flew through the pipes to lower puddles.

Then, I went onto a wooden raft on a lake, Leisee. There was a rope from one end to the other end of Leisee and the raft was connected to the rope. After I got onto the raft, I pulled the rope very hard to move from one end to the other. It was really fun! I had a great time at Leisee.

After playing on the raft four times, it was time to leave. We walked along the hiking trail to Zermatt. The first part of the track was flat and easy, but the later part of the mountain trail was narrow, with lots of tree roots and rocks. Sometimes, the track was steep and slippery. I was too scared to walk further, but my mummy encouraged me, "It's fine. Just follow the way that I walk." I listened to my mummy. Still scared, I held my mummy's hand tightly, held my breath and inched down the most difficult part. Later, the track got easier and easier. Finally, we reached the edge of Zermatt. We descended 680 meters in this hike.

At first, we were nearly lost, but luckily, my mummy found a map. We went to a supermarket and bought some food that we need. Then, we walked to our apartment. I was very tired and it seemed that my legs didn't belong to me, but I could not forget the beautiful view I saw in the hike. What a memorable day!
