A Power Explosion

"Ugh! It's so hot..." BAM! I collapsed on the ground with a big "THUD", this was what I remembered...

One sunny morning, my parents took me to the town carnival, the carnival was crowded with people and there were lots of rides.

First, I drove a bumper car and bumped other cars. Next, I went on the free-fall tower. I was as white as a sheet. After that, I went on a roller coaster. My face turned pale green and I wanted to throw up.

At dusk, we watched a talent show. I was at the edge of my seat as I watched the trapeze artists spin in the air.

Suddenly, BOOM! PAK! Some fire sparks filled the air, I was petrified. I started to run to the exit. However, the fire blocked the exit and started to surround us. My parents curled me up in their chests and ran for our lives.

OUCH! My mom tripped over a small stone and hit her head! I tumbled to the ground too! I rolled all the way to the fire. "My son!" My mom screamed in horror. Everyone at the scene froze and called the fire department.

Five minutes later, the firefighters came and rescued me in the nick of time.

This is such a close call! I would have been turned into a turkey if my lucky stars were not counting on me!

My family picnic

Today, I had a picnic with my family in the country park. I felt excited!

We went to the picnic site by car. When I saw the barbecue site, I ran there directly. Then, I took a lot of food from my family's bag, such as marshmallows, meat, pork chop, sausages and so on. I ate a lot of food because it was yummy!

After that, I flew my kite with my brother. I tried many times but I couldn't succeed, I felt sad. Suddenly, a strong wind blew, I could do it! I felt happy once again! I brought my sketch book too! I drew a beautiful picture!

In the evening, dad said "It is four o'clock now, time to go home!" In the end, I went home.

What an unforgettable day!

A Special day

Last Sunday, I went to Goldfish Street and saw a lot of pets, such as goldfish, rabbits and hamsters. They were cute. I was thinking what to choose for a long time. At last, I bought a fat hamster.

Soon, I took it back home. I named it THFAT because it's so fat. His color is yellow and there is a grey line on its back. He loves eating, he eats a bowl of food every day. No wonder it is so fat.

I love playing with him. Yesterday, it permitted me to hug it, so I felt happy. I swear to protect it no matter what.

A birthday party

Today is the thirty-first of March and it is my birthday! Mother and father planned a birthday party for me, she let me invite some of my friends.

The party started at two o'clock in the afternoon at my home. At that moment, I was so joyful to see my friends, they bought me presents but that was not all, my parents even bought a huge birthday cake and a giant watermelon for us! I used the blender to blend some strawberry milkshake. We were having a great time.

After that, my friends and I went to my bedroom to play with some toy rabbits on the carpet, I opened the curtain to let the amazing sunlight shine through the windows. It was a lot of fun!

I think this day was very special because I have never invited any friends to my birthday party in my life.

I learnt that love and kindness are important to us. My parents and friends are kind to me. We should spread love and kindness all over the world.
