A joyful Chinese New Year Day

I felt joyful on the second day of Chinese New year because my relatives visited us that day.

First, we enjoyed Poon Choi together. Abalones, fish balls, prawns, chickens... all are my favourite. We were full after eating the yummy food. After that, my relatives gave me red packets and I was happy.

Then, my cousins, Peter and May played card games and video games with me. We had a lot of fun.

I really enjoyed this joyful day. I hope that we can gather and play again at next Chinese New year.

A joyful Chinese New Year

4th of February is the fourth day of Chinese New Year this year. It was warm and sunny. I spent the day with my mum and dad.

We wanted to enjoy a relaxing Chinese New Year holiday so we decided to go to Stanley. We started our visit by having lunch at a restaurant there. I ate a hamburger and potato chips.

After lunch, we went to see the Murray House. It was an old but beautiful building. We took some photos there. Then, we went to the Stanley Ma Hang Park. It was next to the Murray House. We walked up the stairs and soon we saw an old temple. We continued to walk along the trail. Then we walked down some stairs and reached a beach. The seaview there was stunning. Next, we went to the Stanley Plaza. We bought three cones of ice cream. The ice cream was yummy. Finally, we visited the Stanley Market. I bought a foldable piano there.

At the end of our trip, we returned home. It was a wonderful and joyful day.

A joyful Chinese New Year Day

1st of February was a joyful Chinese New year day for me. It's sunny but cold. I spent the day with my dad, mum and brother.

In the morning, I visited Grandma and Grandpa with my family. I got red packets from them. I felt very happy.

In the afternoon, we went back home and played tons of games, such as Strategy games, Monopoly and poker. We enjoyed the games so much. We were as happy as a pig in the mud.

At night, we had New year dinner together happily. There was lots of food, such as fish, chicken and vegetables. The dinner was lavish and tasty. At the end, we watched the film, Harry Potter, which was a bit scary, but exciting.

As a whole, I enjoyed the day very much.

A joyful Chinese New Year Day

Chinese New Year is my most favourite festival. It falls on 1st January of the lunar calendar. The zodiac of this year is the Tiger.

This year, the weather was cold and wet. I stayed at home to celebrate the Chinese New year Day with my family. Before the Chinese New Year, I helped grandma to decorate the house in red because we believe the colour can bring luck to my family.

My uncle's, aunts and cousins came to visit us in the afternoon. When I saw them, I greeted them with 'Kung Hei Fat Choy'. They felt happy and gave me presents and red packets.

After that, I played with my cousins outside the house. We played hide-and-seek and hopscotch. My neighbours also joined us. We had so much fun.

When we were playing, my cousin suddenly shouted and cried. Some firecrackers exploded in front of her. She was so scared and cried heavily. Her Dad, one of my uncles, heard the noise and came out to check on her. Luckily, my cousin did not get hurt. My uncle went to hug her and soothe her.

Apart from this incident, I felt this Chinese New year Day was joyful and wonderful!
