My goals

One of my goals in the Year of the Tiger is to be more polite because my mother always says that I am not polite enough. I want to be better. I should use more magic words, like 'Please' and 'Thank you' and say 'Hello' to everyone. I should have more eye contact with others as well.尸

There are two more goals for this year, being more caring and more hard-working. I hope I can be less selfish and learn to share. I hope I can be less lazy, work harder and be an active doer.

I think my family members and myself can reach these goals. If these goals are reached, I would be satisfied.

Chinese New Year

I like Chinese New Year because there are many festive food and special activities that we can do.

Before Chinese New Year, me and my family went to flower markets to buy beautiful flowers, such as dancing lady orchids. They are so pretty!

I like festive food like melon seeds, Chinese dumplings and glutinous rice cake. They are all delicious festive food. I love them.

This year, I got about fifty-six red packets. My mother, father, grandparents, uncle and aunt gave me so many red packets. I feel happy.

My goal for this year is to get high marks in exams and stay healthy. I will study hard and exercise more to achieve my goals.

Another one of my new year wishes is that Covid-19 won't be a thing anymore so everyone can live happily.

I think my parents, friends, classmates and teachers can make these wishes come true.

My Very Special Mum

My mum is special to me because she teaches me with good care and sincere love to make me grow up healthily. She has long black hair and is short. Even though she has to work from morning to evening, she still spends time on teaching and chatting with me after work.

She loves eating sushi and potato chips. Her favourite drink is green tea. Therefore, we have a celebration on Mother's Day and we have a delicious meal at Genki Sushi. My brother and I say 'Thank you' to my mum for loving us.

She is good at cooking. She sometimes cooks pasta for me. She always tells me how to be a good person and encourages me all the time.

She is kind and friendly, but sometimes strict. She is concerned about my study. Every time she finds my careless mistakes, she must be a bit angry, but she encourages me at the same time to avoid making the same mistakes next time.
