

2D Cheng Hui Chun

Mid-Autumn Festival

Mid-Autumn Festival is an essential traditional festival in China. It is the second most important traditional festival in China.

People usually eat dinner with their family on that day. The children play a lantern, eat mooncakes, and solve riddles.

At Mid-Autumn Festival, I eat reunion dinner with my family at grandpa's home. After dinner, we admire the full moon at Tuen Mun Park. I feel excited.

2D Lui Tsz Ki

Mid-Autumn Festival

Mid-Autumn Festival is 15th day of August in the Lunar calendar. Mid-Autumn Festival is about a myth named Chang'e flying to the moon. We have dinner with all family members, and we called it "family reunion dinner". We have mooncakes together and admire the full moon at night.

I plan to go out at night carrying my Cinnamoroll lantern, enjoying Mid-Autumn lights, and solving riddles together.

I like Mid-Autumn day, because we can have dinner with all family members and I can play with my best friends. I feel so happy!

2D Poon Sin Yi

Mid-Autumn Festival

Mid-Autumn Festival is on the 15th day of the 8th month of the Chinese calendar. It is a time for family reunion. We usually eat mooncakes, play with lanterns and watch dragon dance show with families and friends.

This year, I go to my granny's house to celebrate the festival. Then I go to the TKO Waterfront Park with my friends. We play with lanterns, play games and appreciate the moon there. What a wonderful night!

2D Tam Si Chi

Mid-Autumn Festival

The Mid-Autumn Festival is a harvest festival celebration. People usually have family gatherings and eat mooncakes. Children play with the lanterns at night.

I plan to go to the playhouse at Discovery Bay on Mid-Autumn Festival this year. I feel excited. I want to watch Tai Hang Fire Dragon Dance next year.

2D Wong Pak Ki

Mid-Autumn Festival

The Mid-Autumn Festival is a festival celebrating harvest in Chinese culture. It is held on the 15th August of Chinese Lunar calendar. People usually watch the moon, play lanterns and eat mooncakes with family and friends.

Last Friday is Mid-Autumn Festival. I went to grandmother's home to celebrate with family. We had dinner and ate mooncakes together. After dinner, we joined the party held in the housing estate. We were so lucky to win the second prize. It is a new TV. I feel happy and surprised.

